NAME / ADDRESS	PRICE	TEMP.	CRUST	SAUCE	CHEESE	GREASE	EXTRAS	PROS	CONS
ALEX PIZZA 1252 Washington St., South End, Boston. 617.338.4440	$1.75	pleasantly warm	just slightly browned, a soft Wonderbread-like middle	sparing, adequate, unremarkable	solid and salty with a hint of herb	needs a good blot	shakers of fennel and pepper at the counter	a prominently hung bust of Alexander the Great	the kind of cheap tasty crap you get at after-school meetings
ANGELO'S 444 Broadway, Cambridge. 617.661.8049	$1.50	medium-hot	thin, pleasantly crumbly, great texture	tangy, flavorful, judiciously applied	thinly spread, complementary to sauce	very little	no-frills spot with bare-bones prices	nice proprietor, unexpectedly tasty, fucking cheap	creepily deserted at 7:15pm
BOSTONE PIZZA 225 Newbury St., Boston 617.536.9451	$2.63	hot (heated upon ordering)	floppy, a bit underdone	nondescript, but good	a little gooey, tasty	a dabber, for sure	Neapolitan + Sicilian styles both available	no additional price for toppings	messy, definitely need to fold to consume
BROADWAY'S BEST 321 W. Broadway, South Boston. 617.268.1228.	$1.50	tepid + inconsistent	thicker with crunch	what sauce?	lots of it... and it's good	just enough; no dabbing required	attractive service with a smile	speedy service, especially good while drunk	suspicious price hike in wee hours
CAPPY'S 82 Westland Ave., Boston. 617.247.8801	$2	jump right in: it's warm	dough-heavy, perfect for carb lovers	unusually light, regrettably skimpy	loads, but don't expect infinite stretching magic	oddly centered, prepare for greasy napkins	for another buck, try Buffalo or BBQ chicken	generous cuts, awesome ambience, framed Larry Bird photo	condiments suspicious served in Gatorade bottles
CRAZY DOUGH'S 1124 Boylston St., Boston. 617.266.5656	$2.10	heated up to pleasant warmth	thick, hand-tossed, a little crispy	heavy, kind of sweet	rather chewy and plentiful	just one napkin, not too bad	plenty of gourmet options up for grabs	PBR by the pitcher for $4, plenty of TVs	they always close earlier than expected on weekdays
EMILIO'S 536 Tremont St., South End, Boston. 617.423.4083	$1.50	warmish, tepid	light, soft, tastes like a dinner roll	almost undetectable, there may be sauce here	soft, melty, almost mushy	none! what kind of freak show is this?	many deluxe topping options	steps away from both the Dirty Bird and the BCA	good drunk fuel, but the cheese is unnerving somehow
EMMA'S 40 Hampshire St., Cambridge. 617.864.8534	$1.75	warm and tingly	super-cracker-thin, crispy ends	fresh, herbed, tomato-fleshy	thin blanket of salty goodness	minimal, glistening, satisfying	fanciness like spinach and goat cheese	picture-window counter seating overlooking Broadway	a date, not drunken, destination
ERNESTO'S 69 Salem St., North End, Boston. 617.523.1373	$3.25	nice and hot, but fast	doughy and moist with winning bready edges	nominal, you can see the crust	creamy, tasty, not too oily	glistening but not dripping	to-go slices are wrapped in a plate-napkin frenzy	a 'slice' is literally a quarter-pie	you can't order anything smaller
HARRY O'S 1405 Washington St., South End, Boston. 617.247.1450	$2	instantly pulled from top of the big oven	supercrisp, but bready enough	thin, no frills	more than you'd think, as thick as the crust underneath	pretty damn greasy, but not problematically so	self-serve spices on the counter	first-rate New England slice; big, delicious, cheesy, crispy	because of the copious grease, you might not want a whole pie
HAYMARKET PIZZA 106 Blackstone St., Boston. 617.723.8585	$1	fresh, hot, wicked fast	thin and chewy	sweet, oregano-and-peppertinged	not bad, melts right	minimal	50-cent toppings, $1 drinks	fast, cheap, no tourists despite Faneuil Hall	more a lunch spot than night hangout
